

Scheme of International Peace Cooperation Program Advisors

The Cabinet Office introduced the International Peace Cooperation Program Advisor Scheme in 2005 to respond to the increasing demand for civilian officers in international peace efforts led by the UN and other organizations. The Advisory Group on International Peace Cooperation (chaired by Mr. Yasushi Akashi, former Under-Secretary-General of the UN) had facilitated this scheme.

This scheme has two objectives:

- (1) Fostering human resources in the field of international peace cooperation.
- (2) Strengthening the functions of the Secretariat of the International Peace Cooperation Headquarters.

In addition to research activities, International Peace Cooperation Program Advisors give lectures at schools and other institutions in Japan as well as PKO training centers abroad.

▲ The 8th International Peace Cooperation Symposium (2019)

▲ Lecture at Tamagawa Academy (2017)

International Peace Seminars

The Secretariat of the International Peace Cooperation Headquarters conduct seminars or “Demae Kouza,” to promote public awareness on international peace cooperation activities. These seminars are conducted at universities, schools and other institutions. The themes of seminars are decided based on consultations with host institutions. For further details, please visit the following webpage of the Secretariat (http://www.pko.go.jp/pko\_j/demaekouza/demaekouza.html) or contact 03-3581-7343.

Annual Events

The Secretariat of International Peace Cooperation Headquarters participates in annual events such as Children’s Kasumigaseki Visit Day and Global Festa Japan.

▲ Children’s Kasumigaseki Visit Day

▲ Global Festa Japan

Internet TV

The latest videos about Japan’s international peace cooperation activities are available on the government internet TV (in Japanese).

<https://nettv.gov-online.go.jp/index.html>

Updated information on activities and columns of on-going operations are available on our website! (Available in English).

<http://www.pko.go.jp>

